The warhead packs tremendous force yet has a small enough effective radius that using troops, nearby troops, and civilian populations are not endangered by the blast. Atomic Role For McCloy

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican John J. McCloy, an old hand at dealing with the Soviets, will have a key role in the new Democratic administration's quest for nuclear disarmament.

President-elect John F. Kennedy Monday night announced appointment of McCloy, former Allied high commissioner in Germany, as director of the United States Disarmament Administration. In that field McCloy, 65, will be Kennedy's chief adviser and policy planner.

FULL OF HOLIDAY SPIRIT, A DUCK LANDS IN JAIL

WOODSTOCK, Ill. (AP) — A weaving, quacking duck, staggering around the south end of Woodstock New Year's morning, was picked up by police — after a hectic chase.

Police said the duck was drunk and put him in jail.

Police got a report that a duck was waddling along the icy streets and sidewalks, occasionally flapping his wings. When they arrived on the scene they detected a noticeable stagger in his stride.

The policemen found that a duck, even if intoxicated, is not easy to catch. As they pursued him, the duck scooted along, just a few inches off the ground, sailed over a snow bank (something the policemen couldn't do), then paused until they had almost caught up with him.

Then he took off again, gamboling across the snow-covered lawns. But he finally cooked his own goose. He ran into a garage and the policemen captured him.

The captors speculated the duck was a tame one and probably had been given some New Year's egg nog by his owner.

PANAMA CONSIDERS BREAK WITH CUBA

PANAMA (AP) — A highly placed source said today President Roberto Chari's administration is ready to consider seriously petitions for a rupture of relations with Cuba.

A petition for a break with the Fidel Castro government was started in Chiriqui Province last week.

Goodpaster Sentenced 199 Years In Prison

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) — Dr. Walter J. Goodpaster was formally sentenced Monday to 199 years in prison for the 1959 Christmas day slaying of Mrs. Margaret Strunk after his motion for a new trial was denied.

The 47-year-old Herrin, Ill., optometrist was convicted Oct. 28 and the penalty was set by Circuit Court Judge Clarence Wright, who had "leaned over backward" to give Goodpaster a fair trial and was convinced he had one. The judge said state law provided for sentencing by a jury.

The defense attorneys indicated they would appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Mrs. Strunk, 52, the mother of 12 children, was shot down on a country road near Goodpaster's home near Carterville, Ill.

She and a companion, Bernard Dobraski, 33, were walking home after a round of tavern stops on Christmas eve.

Dobraski testified that Goodpaster became enraged after he threw rocks at the optometrist's watch dog and chased the couple down the road in a jeep.

Dobraski was shot in the head but recovered.

Goodpaster is a brother of Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, a White House staff secretary.

He displayed no emotion Monday when the motion was turned down. He was taken back to the Williamson County Jail at Marion, where he will remain until late this week when he is to be taken to prison.

Athletics Name Lane Manager

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Frank Lane, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, was named general manager of the Kansas City Athletics today.

Lane's appointment was announced at a press conference called by Charles O. Finley, who recently purchased the 52 percent stock holdings of the baseball club of the late Arnold Johnson.

Lane will succeed Parke Carroll, who has been general manager since the club was moved to Kansas City from Philadelphia in 1955.

Lane thus assumes his fifth major league executive post. He will be associated again with Joe Gordon, New manager of the Athletics and formerly the Indians' pitcher. Gordon signed a two-year contract last October.

In Cleveland, the Indians said they will not replace Lane immediately.

Lane came to Cleveland in the winter of 1957. The Indians finished sixth the previous season. In 1958, they were fourth. The following season, the team moved up to second, but dropped back to fourth again in 1960.

Lane, who developed his reputation as a trader of baseball players with the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, continued his free dealing with Cleveland. He swapped more than 200 players.

87th Congress Greets Findley, Sworn In Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three newly elected representatives were in the 25-member Illinois House delegation to be sworn in when the 87th Congress convened today.

Political makeup of the group remains the same as in the last congress—14 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

The three new members are Democratic Rep. Edward R. Finnegan, who succeeds the late Rep. Charles A. Boyle, killed in a Chicago traffic accident; Rep. John B. Anderson, a Republican of Rockford, succeeding Leo Allen, who retired; and Republican Rep. Paul Findley, of Pittsfield, succeeding Edna Simpson, who also retired.

A reapportionment resulting from the 1960 census will cut the Illinois House delegation to 24 seats in the Congress convening in January 1963.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who defeated his Republican opponent, Samuel Witter, and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., who was not up for re-election resume service in the Senate.

Japan Opposes Use Of Bases Against Laos

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government will insist that the United States consult with it before using U.S. bases in Japan to support action in Laos, a high Foreign Ministry official said today.

The official, who asked not to be quoted by name, indicated his government would oppose any such use of the American bases, Japan, he said, in principle is against any outside interference in Laos and hopes if there is any it will stop.

The new U.S.-Japan security pact requires prior consultation between the U.S. and Japanese governments before the American bases in Japan are used to support action outside Japan. The big Yokosuka Navy base is the major port of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

U.S. military spokesmen said there had been no special alert or increase of U.S. forces in Japan because of the Laotian crisis. Navy spokesmen declined to confirm or deny a report that a special task force of warships and Marines has been readied in U.S.-occupied Okinawa.

It is considered unlikely a Republican will cast a vote for Powell on the House floor Wednesday when Republican Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter presides over the organizing process. Carpenter is counted on to play a strong hand to develop prestige in GOP leadership. He was the only GOP state office candidate re-elected in November.

It is possible some Republicans will abstain from voting. In the event only two abstain or are absent, Powell could have a majority with only 88 votes.

Fear of such defection caused GOP leaders to call GOP candidates for speaker together last week and to agree on strategy to stem any sapping of GOP strength.

Finch-Tregoff Trial Comes Up 3rd Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his onetime mistress Carol Tregoff come before the court today for their third trial on charges of murdering the doctor's estranged wife, Barbara Jean in July 1959.

The jurors deadlocked in two previous trials.

The scheduled appearance today of Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 24, centers around the physician's plea of double jeopardy. Last Dec. 12 the court held that this plea must be argued with the main issue, in the third trial, Superior Judge David Coleman, on that ground, denied Finch a separate trial.

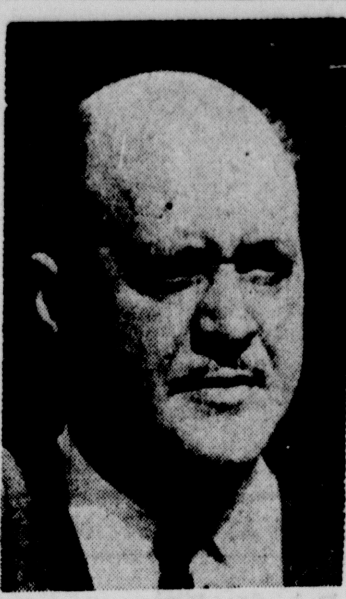

Mrs. Finch, 36, was shot to death at her suburban West Covina home. The state contends that she was slain in an effort to avoid an expensive divorce settlement.

House Faces Fight Rules

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 87th Congress opens today with Democratic insurgents in both Senate and House demanding changes in the way their business is run.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., had a resolution ready for a Democratic caucus before the noon opening session. The resolution provides for filling all vacancies on the policy and steering committees by direct vote of senators.

GIVEN HIGH POST—President John F. Kennedy announced in Palm Beach, Fla., the appointment of Robert C. Weaver, of New York City, as administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Legislature To Convene Tomorrow

By LARRY KRAMP

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Republican and Democratic caucuses tonight paved the way for Wednesday's opening of the 72nd Illinois General Assembly and the crucial House speakership election.

The election will decide whether Democrat Paul Powell succeeds himself as speaker despite an 89-88 Republican majority.

Republicans plan special caucuses strategy to prevent any sapping of their strength.

With the Senate also under Republican control, governor-elect Otto Kerner will be leaning more on Republicans than on Democrats to solve the state's massive money problem.

Kerner will succeed Republican Gov. William G. Stratton in inauguration ceremonies Monday.

The incoming Democrat must make revenue plans clear for a 1961-63 budget which may run above the $2½ billion programmed for the present biennium ending June 30. His budget is not due until April.

Stratton will make farewell recommendations Wednesday. He may renew advice to overhaul the state constitution's revenue article.

Never before in Illinois has an incoming governor been faced by both Houses controlled by the opposition party.

Kerner's hand in dealing with top issues would be strengthened if Powell is elected speaker.

Pressing issues are public aid, election law changes, school aid, court revision, mental health and congressional reapportionment.

Powell, the only Democratic candidate announced in the speaker race, could swing the election if the 88 Democrats stand together and Republican ranks are torn.

It is considered unlikely a Republican will cast a vote for Powell on the House floor Wednesday when Republican Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter presides over the organizing process.

Carpenter is counted on to play a strong hand to develop prestige in GOP leadership. He was the only GOP state office candidate re-elected in November.

It is possible some Republicans will abstain from voting. In the event only two abstain or are absent, Powell could have a majority with only 88 votes.

Fear of such defection caused GOP leaders to call GOP candidates for speaker together last week and to agree on strategy to stem any sapping of GOP strength.

Powerful Role — If Powell is elected speaker, he will have power to name Democrats to committee chairmanships. The speaker and the controlling floor leader also have a vote in every committee which would swing committee voting control to Democrats.

Some Republicans have threatened drastic counter-attack if Powell is elected. One representative promised a daily filibuster.

A senator said the Senate with a 4-vote Republican majority would veto bills sent from the House.

The House controversy involved the struggle to hold the conservative Rules Committee on what legislation can be considered by the House.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas Monday agreed that this road block to many liberal measures must be broken down—if necessary by purging Rep. William Colmer, D-Miss., from the committee.

Colmer To Go? — Colmer, who did not support President-elect John F. Kennedy in the campaign, and Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., often have voted with four conservative Republican committee members to block the kind of legislation Kennedy is pledged to support.

It was not at all certain the House Democratic caucus would knock Colmer off the committee, however, or that the entire House would sustain the action if it did.

Gore's resolution in the Senate caucus seemed likely to be resisted by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., who is scheduled to be elected by the caucus as majority leader, succeeding Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson was expected to resign immediately after being sworn in for a new Senate term, in order to become vice president on Jan. 20.

The policy move crossed the lines of an effort by a group to revise the Senate's anti-filibuster rule. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., was prepared to move at the opening session for the adoption of a new rule to ease the present requirement for approval by two-thirds of those voting before debate can be cut off.

Filibuster Rule — Anderson's proposal would be to permit 60 percent of the senators to gag a filibuster. Others planned to offer an amendment to let a simple majority accomplish this end.

Gore said he would not support a change in the filibuster rule. Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., backed Gore's policy move but said he also will oppose changing the debate limitation requirement.

G.O.P. To Remain Quiet — Republicans, caucusing to re-elect Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as minority leader and other party leaders, expected to take no party position on the anti-filibuster rule fight.

It was the general understanding the Senate would swear in and re-elect members today and postpone argument on the rule until Wednesday.

Frigid Weather Grips Northern Midwest Areas — Biting cold weather held an icy grip on northern Midwest areas today, with temperatures again plunging far below zero.

The mercury dropped to 30 below zero at International Falls, Minn., and 28 below at Fraser, Colo., as the cold air mass held over Colorado, Minnesota, parts of Iowa and Wisconsin and the eastern Dakotas.

The greatest snow depth, except for mountain stations, was recorded at Greenville, Maine—32 inches.

Temperatures stayed close to zero in many parts of the ice belt Monday.

Near seasonal readings were reported in other sections of the country. It was above freezing along the Pacific Coast, extreme southern parts of the Plateau and Rocky Mountain region, the Gulf Coast states, the Tennessee Valley and northward into the middle Atlantic Coast states.

Light snow fell in the northern Plains, the upper Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes region southward throughout the Ohio Valley and eastward into the Appalachians. Snow on the ground in Pellston, Mich., measures 20 inches and it was nearly two feet deep in Caribou, Maine.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT, WARSAW BOY DIES — WARSAW, Ill. (AP) — Steven K. Sapp, 10, was killed by the discharge of a shotgun Monday which authorities said apparently was triggered by his 5-year-old brother, Troy.

The boys' sister, Ginger, 8, said she had seen Troy handle the weapon, a 410 caliber shotgun, shortly before Steven was found in their home.

The parents, the Melvin Sapps, were away at the time.

RAILROAD HEAD DIES — WINNEPEG, Man. (AP) — W. A. Maher, 75, chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., died Monday of cancer.

LAOS SITUATION "DETERIORATING" — U.S. officials reported that the military situation in Laos was "deteriorating," it was reported in Washington, D.C. CHURCH BELLS TO RING CENTENNIAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil War Centennial Commission expects every church bell in America to ring at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning as a symbol that the centennial observance has officially begun.

The commission says this four-year commemoration will be the greatest ever staged in this country.

It added that President Eisenhower will make a radio and television talk next Sunday calling on all Americans to participate in the observance.

Husband Held For Gasoline Death Of Wife

ARNOLD, Mo. (AP) — George Williams, 47, was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond today after being charged Monday with manslaughter in the death of his wife, Irene, 41, who died from burns over 80 percent of her body.

Williams told sheriff's deputies he and his wife got into an argument early Sunday after coming home from a New Year's party. He said he grabbed a five gallon can of gasoline and started pouring it on the basement floor, threatening to burn the house down. His wife grabbed the can, and the gas was ignited when the automatic furnace switched on.

But Mrs. Williams, in a death bed declaration before gasoline, said her husband poured gasoline on her. She died late Sunday night in St. Joseph's hospital in the St. Louis suburb of Kirkwood.

Jefferson county prosecuting attorney William B. Millett said he has asked for a grand jury investigation to determine whether Williams should be charged with murder.

Eisenhower Hears Prayer For Kennedy — WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sat with bowed head today as his pastor prayed that President-elect John F. Kennedy be given "wisdom and strength" for the problems of his administration.

The President, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, administration leaders and many senators and representatives attended the special service of intercession and Holy Communion held each year on the day Congress convenes.

Kennedy is in Palm Beach, Fla. Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the host National Presbyterian church, in his prayer for the President, said, "in the days to come let him see the fruition of his labors for justice and peace."

Then, Dr. Elson prayed that Kennedy, who will succeed Eisenhower in 17 days, be granted "wisdom and strength" and "a high vision, soundness of judgment, moral courage and a sanctified stewardship of office."

Castro Demands U.S. Reduce Embassy Staff, Or Leave The Island

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — U.S.-Cuban relations grew more frayed today with a drastic order from Prime Minister Fidel Castro for a slash of the U.S. Embassy staff here to 11 by Wednesday night.

In a wrathful prelude to the U.N. Security Council meeting Wednesday, when Cuba will air new charges that the United States plans to invade Cuba, Castro declared the U.S. Embassy was filled with spies directing counter-revolutionaries.

He said the U.S. staff would be reduced to the same number that Cuba maintains in its embassy in Washington.

Although the prime minister said he was not breaking relations with the United States, he invited the entire staff to leave Cuba. "We are not breaking with them," he shouted, "if they want to go, let them go."

Followers Approve — Thousands of Castro's followers massed in Civic Plaza roared their approval with shouts of "Cuba si, Yankees no" and with demands that the United States give up its naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba.

At the big glass-walled U.S. Embassy, Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock got his first word of the order to reduce the staff from 87 to 11 as he watched Castro on television.

Six months ago there were 120 on the staff. U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal was recalled last October and embassy wives and children were sent home last September. Cuba has not had an ambassador in Washington for months.

The embassy said it was awaiting official notification whether Castro's order meant to cut the staff to 11 persons in all or to 11 officials plus secretaries and other non-diplomatic personnel.

To Step Up Military Readiness

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today received additional intelligence reports on the situation in Laos from his top military, diplomatic and intelligence advisers.

Another high-level White House conference followed Eisenhower's action of Monday approving stepped-up military readiness in the Pacific.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr., Deputy Secretary of Defense James H. Douglas, Central Intelligence Director Allen W. Dulles, and Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, headed the group calling at the White House this morning.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Laos was among several matters taken up at the conference.

Hagerty reiterated to newsmen today that the government regards the situation in Laos as grave.

In advance of today's meeting, Eisenhower was represented as continued that fast and clear action is the best way to avoid any Communist commitment to aggression in Laos. But he was said to be hopeful of a solution short of military intervention by outside powers.

On Saturday, after word arrived here of what the Laotian government said was an invasion by seven battalions from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam, Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic, military and intelligence advisers.

That afternoon the United States issued a public warning to North Viet Nam, Red China and other Communist powers not to intervene in behalf of the Red Pathet Lao rebels. It also referred pointedly to the U.S. obligation in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization for defense of the area.

On Sunday the United States called for a meeting in Bangkok of the council of SEATO, whose members include the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

Monday the Pentagon announced—with White House backing—orders to step up the readiness of U.S. forces in the Pacific, including fast-moving airlift capability, "in view of the present situation in Laos."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had approved the move "in light of the SEATO obligations."

3 DIE WHEN AUTO BREAKS THROUGH ICE

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — Three young women drowned Monday night and their male companions escaped when their automobile broke through the ice of Little Muskego Lake.

Coroner James Welch of Waukesha county identified the victims as: Jean Marie Hammernik, 20; Helen DeStrampe, 17; and Korinne Wellner, 17, all of Milwaukee.

Gold first was discovered in Colorado at Englewood in 1869.

To Return Prized Art Collection To Poland

DERBY LINE, Vt. (AP) — A multimillion-dollar art treasure crossed the Canadian border into the United States today on its way back to Poland. It had been moved about for more than 20 years to keep it out of the hands of the Nazis and then the Communists.

Two huge moving vans, accompanied by several cars, reached U.S. customs at Derby Line shortly before 6 a.m. A Royal Canadian Mounted Police escort handed over responsibility for the shipment to Vermont State Troopers.

For more than a dozen years Poland's Communist government has been trying to obtain custody of the collection, valued at $50 million or more. It includes tapestries, gold-encrusted coronation robes of Polish kings, bejeweled swords and other items including a gold saddle.

Officials in charge of the convey declined information about its destination or its route across New England. They indicated they would have been happier if there were less public knowledge of the shipment.

One of the van drivers expressed surprise when a newsmen told him of the value of the shipment.

The treasure, in 24 blue trunks, was taken from the Provincial Museum on the Plains of Abraham.

M. Dobrosielski, a deputy of the Polish ambassador to the United States, said the treasure would be taken to Boston and loaded on a Polish ship there.

The treasure was removed from Poland for safekeeping at the start of World War II. Two representatives of the Polish government in exile brought them to Canada in 1940. They were moved from one hiding place to another. In 1948 Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec ordered them transferred at night to the provincial museum when he heard that some of the treasures might be sold back to Poland.

Let's End Excuse Age

It is interesting to note that a surprising number of leading figures in America think of their country as fundamentally undisciplined today.

One of the latest to voice this view was Orlando Wilson, Chicago's police chief and an academic specialist in police and crime matters.

Called to his post to clean up a bad situation in that city's police force, Wilson brought his thoughtful outlook to the task. He has some definite notions on how to bring discipline into some aspects of our life.

Naturally enough he is deeply concerned over the unruly tendencies found among the nation's youngsters. Many who deal with this problem urge stronger punishment as the best antidote for delinquent behavior. Wilson doubts that severity is the decisive factor.

In his own judgment there are two crucial elements in effective punishment. One is promptness in applying it. The longer it is delayed, the less positive seems the connection between the offense and the consequences.

The other vital need is that the punishment be inescapable. As Wilson sees it, the sure knowledge that some kind of penalty will flow from a mis-deed is a vastly more useful deterrent than the prospect that a severe penalty MIGHT result under certain circumstances.

The police and court records of our major cities testify to the fact that a very great percentage of our delinquent youngsters either escape punishment altogether or find its effectiveness minimized by delays and other temporizing.

Wilson appears to be on sound ground. Certainly those who argue against the "strong punishment" school of thought cannot complain. Nor is he taking a "soft" approach.

Probably most psychologists would agree that what makes for good discipline is the steady, inevitable application of authority. Not only children but most adults respond best when they know exactly what is expected from them, what they may do and what they may not do without reaping unhappy consequences.

When this ceases to be the Age of Excuse, when misdeeds of whatever degree and kind are punished speedily and steadily, then perhaps we will not hear leading Americans speaking any longer of the "disorderly society" in which we live in the 1960s.

If You Like Excitement 1961 Will Be Your Kind Of Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is time for our annual fuzzy forecast of what lies ahead, and a peek into the crystal ball shows:

You'll have plenty of fun in 1961—that is, if you like excitement.

It promises to be a stirring year for all, full of adventure for anybody who doesn't take off his hearing aid when opportunity knocks at the door.

Just in fact, here are a few predictions:

Ten-thousand Americans will write and ask the new president, John F. Kennedy, if they can have as a souvenir the new silk topper he'll wear at his inauguration on Jan. 20. But Kennedy, with typical New England thrift, will keep it handy on a White House shelf—just in case he needs it for a repeat performance of the ceremony in 1965.

Caroline Kennedy, 3, the President's photogenic daughter, will receive a $100,000 offer to act as moderator on a TV panel show featuring the views of kindergarten age children on world problems.

Harvard University will move to Washington, D. C., so its students can attend classes in the same city where most of Harvard's faculty is employed.

The accent on youth, so evident in U. S. politics, will have some odd repercussions as everyone tries to keep in step with the trend.

Nikita Khrushchev will buy a toupee. Jack Benny will issue a statement saying that a check of his birth record shows that he is really only 38, not 39—and Lassie, who has been showing a few wrinkles around the eyes lately, will undergo a secret face lifting.

Sophie Tucker will change her act, and come on stage rolling a hoop and wearing Mary Pickford curls. Women's fashions will feature "the high school look," and stenographers will come to work wearing bobby Sox.

The ailing economy will be bolstered by a $2 billion boom in the hair dyeing business. Anyone with gray hair will be tabbed an exhibitionist.

Casey Stengel, ex-manager of the New York Yankees, will consider starting his baseball career all over again as a rookie outfielder for the Kansas City Athletics.

A few developments: On the international scene, the U. S. Air Force will pull the bloopers of the year. It will send up a plane to snag the capsule of an American missile and come down instead with a Soviet capsule. This capsule will contain three Soviet dogs, an autographed portrait of Khrushchev addressed "to the president of Mars," and an unsigned note from a Soviet engineer saying, "Help!"

The United Nations will publish a book book in an attempt to get out of debt.

Throughout most of the world college students will demonstrate against their governments with banners, rocks and home-made grenades. In this country students will demonstrate vacuum cleaners to earn tuition money.

On the home front look for these things:

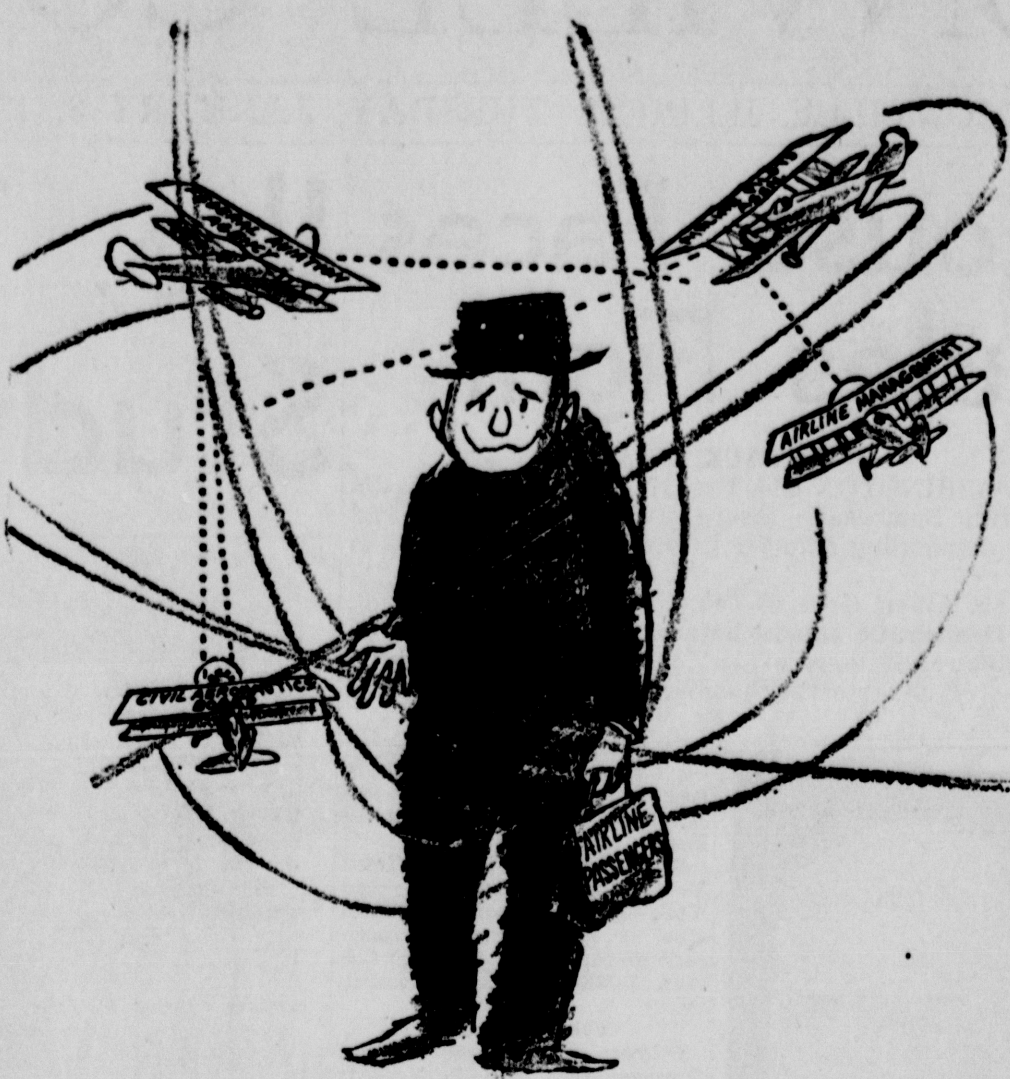

Science will develop a palatable new food that can't be canned or frozen but has to be kept and cooked in the old-fashioned way. Housewives will immediately boycott it.

Some remorseful woman will start a campaign to give equal rights back to men.

Medicine will develop a marvelous new wonder drug to cure all the ailments caused by the marvelous new wonder drugs of 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960. Unfortunately, it too will have side effects.

Kennedy's Priority Bills Could Cost U.S. Plenty

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The five-point, top priority legislative program called for by President-elect Kennedy and his congressional leaders could cost the country several billions of dollars. This won't be included in the 1961 budget President Eisenhower sends to the Capitol before he leaves the White House.

There is no assurance this program will sail through Congress in the first 90 days of the new administration, as Kennedy promised in an early campaign speech. These measures ran into plenty of trouble in the last Congress.

The program includes more medical care for the aged under the social security system and increase of minimum wages. Those two items won't raise federal taxes, but they will be paid for directly by employers and employees in higher payrolls and payroll deductions.

The other three items could cost the government plenty. They are federal aid to education, housing, and depressed areas.

The Senate in 1959 passed a 390-million-dollar bill for aid to areas with chronic high unemployment. In 1960 the House cut this to 200 million in low interest loans and 50 million dollars in grants to help build plants and attract new industries to depressed areas. Senate accepted House cuts.

President Eisenhower had proposed a 50-million-dollar program for the same purpose. In vetoing the congressional bill, he charged the House with squandering money. The Senate failed to override the veto and so the measure died. Now it's revised.

On housing, the Senate passed a 14-billion-dollar omnibus bill last June. The House refused to accept it, but in the final days of the special session a stopgap bill was agreed to, and the President signed it.

The Democratic platform now sets a goal of two million new housing units constructed every year. In recent years the average has been a little over the million mark. Doubling the construction rate might run up federal housing appropriations from 500 million to one billion dollars a year.

On aid to education, the Senate passed a 1.8 billion dollar school construction bill early in 1960. The House cut this to 1.3 billion—325 million a year for four years—to be matched by state and local funds. Final passage was doomed, however, by an amendment which would have barred funds to school districts not in compliance with federal court orders to desegregate.

President Eisenhower's own program for aid to education was 70 million dollars a year for 30 years in grants to states to help pay off local school bond issues.

By contrast with this, the Democratic platform calls for "generous federal financial support" in the form of grants to the states for school construction, teachers' salaries and college facilities. More vocational and adult education aids are also promised and a Youth Conservation Corps is also called for.

No price tag has been put on such a program, but it has been estimated as at least a billion dollars a year.

On medical care for the aged, both Senate and House in the last Congress rejected the Kennedy program for a health insurance plan under the Social Security system.

In its place Congress provided for limited medical care to the needy aged through federal subsidies estimated at 325 million dollars a year. This would be paid as grants to the states, who would then pay the "vendors" of medical assistance.

On Raising The Minimum wage, the last Senate passed a Kennedy-sponsored bill increasing it from $1 to $1.25 an hour. It would have applied to four million more workers, but exempted 900,000 hotel and restaurant employees.

The House cut this to $1.15 an hour, increasing the minimum for 1.4 million workers, but exempting 14 million of the 24 million workers now covered. Conferees couldn't agree, so the measure died at the end of the session.

The Democratic platform now promises to raise the minimum to $1.25 an hour, making it cover all workers in interstate commerce and industry as well as two million wage earners who work on farms. Additional wage and social security benefits also are promised for migrant workers, lowest paid in America.

In Hollywood

By JAMES BACON

AP-Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Suffer! Suffer!" agent Jack Bean keeps telling his pretty actress wife. "How can you be so happy all the time?"

"I know they say actresses must suffer for their career," bemoans Mitzi Gaynor, "but can I help it if I'm just too well adjusted?"

Such talk might not seem so extraordinary outside Hollywood, but here even the French poodles have psychiatrists.

As one who has known Mitzi since she was 16, I'm always amazed at how well she rolls with the punches that only a heart-break town like Hollywood can throw.

Take her four years at 20th in a series of bad pictures that completely ignored her considerable talents.

At the time, Mitzi philosophized that she was young, and after those turkeys nothing but good things could come her way. She had barely uttered those words when the studio cast her in the thankless role of a sweet girl in a Marilyn Monroe picture. "There's No Business Like Show Business."

A sweet girl in a Marilyn Monroe picture is like the leading lady in a Marx Bros. movie—only your relatives know you're in it. The role was bad enough but the front office informed Mitzi on the first day of shooting that her services were no longer needed after she finished the movie.

Only Mitzi would have taken such news the way she did. "I just looked on my firing as a blessing in disguise," she says. "I figured if I were leaving, I might as well go out with an 'o'clock finish. So I worked my head off."

The result is history. Mitzi, in a thankless part, stole the movie from the lot's prize sex bomb. The picture triggered Mitzi's new career. A few years later, the studio that once fired her paid a whopping six-figure salary for her to star in "South Pacific."

Mitzi didn't coast over her success; she just went on being happy. The only difference from the old Mitzi is that her happiness is now mostly confined to a big Beverly Hills mansion—the first home she and Bean ever owned.

But as Bean says: "She was happy when we rented a small apartment. She adjusts to her environment. I think she could even adjust to San Quentin."

What's the secret of Mitzi's state of mind?

"I've always liked my work. I work hard at it but I'm never satisfied with myself. When I accomplish a goal, I immediately set another goal and work towards that."

Mitzi, as vivacious in person as she is on the screen, doesn't have the usual child star antipathy towards show business. Most of the child stars who make it big become rebels.

"I was never shoved into show business," Mitzi says. "I started dancing professionally when I was 11 and at 13 I was featured in Los Angeles Civic Light Opera productions of Broadway hits. I loved every minute of it."

At a time when most kids are still playing with dolls, Mitzi was co-starring in "Louisiana Purchase," "Song of Norway," "The Great Waltz" and other shows. Some of her co-stars were Victor Moore and the late Bobby Clark.

Her name in those days was Mitzi Gerber but someone at Fox suggested that it sounded too much like baby food. She was only 16 when she was signed there, but one cab driver, she recalls, got her confused with another famous Gaynor—Janet.

"I had been in my first picture and well on my way to a big head when the cabbie asked for my autograph. As I signed it, he said sweetly: 'I thought you were so wonderful with Charles Farrell in "Seventh Heaven."'"

That picture was made six years before Mitzi was born.

VERSATILE eggplant teams up with a cheese sauce for a very appetizing dish. Bacon slices add a side attraction.

GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Eggplant has many uses, each adding variety and flavor appeal to a menu. One of the more popular ways to prepare this vegetable is to slice and fry it in butter and serve with a tangy cheese sauce.

1 large eggplant

Butter or margarine

Cheese Sauce

1/2 cup milk

1/2 teaspoon paprika

Chopped parsley

Bacon slices

Combine pancake mix and onion salt. Pare eggplant and slice into 1/2-inch pieces. Dip into pancake mix. Pan-fry in butter, over low heat, until soft.

For cheese sauce, combine milk, cheese and seasonings in saucepan; simmer until cheese is melted, stirring frequently.

Arrange eggplant on platter; pour cheese sauce down center of slices; sprinkle with chopped parsley. Place cooked bacon slices along edge of platter.

A Dad Is a Dad Is a Dad—Ad Writers to Contrary

For years makers of automobiles, TV sets, kitchen appliances, and so on have been harping on the theme of what a father "owes" his family in the way of material possessions.

Now an insurance company has taken the final step with an advertisement that begins:

"Have you considered this brutal fact? When you go to the hospital your family might be better off if you died there rather than return home unable to work."

Somewhat I suspect the insurance company that had the bad taste to put out an ad like that will be hearing from angry wives all over the country, saying in no uncertain terms that the head of their family is more than a pay check and that financial security isn't the only kind of security important to a family.

We may have become a security-conscious nation, but certainly we aren't so money-in-the-bank conscious that we can read an ad like that without having our blood reach a slow boil.

Surely we all know and want our husbands and fathers to know that a home without a father is a broken home—and that no amount of financial security can make it whole.

A family with a father physically unable to hold a job may be in a bad way financially. But it is still a "whole" family and it can be a far happier one than a family that has no financial worries—but no father, either.

It has been easy to laugh at the ads that imply a father is letting his family down if he doesn't provide them with a TV set, a vacation trip, a new home—or whatever an advertiser happens to be trying to sell.

But when they start suggesting to Papa that his family might be better off with him dead than alive with no income, it's time to let the advertising copy writers know they've gone too far.

We the Women Imitate the 'Jackie Look'—and Be in Style

RUTH MILLETT
Written For NEA

Memo to Men:

If you want to know what your wife is going to look like during the next few years take a good, long look at Jackie Kennedy.

The First Lady-to-be is a style-setter and I have a hunch that Mrs. America en masse is going to be following in her fashion footsteps as long as Jackie resides in the White House.

Mrs. Kennedy proved herself a fashion leader, instead of a follower, when she refused to turn herself into the First Lady image when her husband was running for president. She didn't alter her controversial coiffure, drop a hemline, or purchase a single clubwoman-type outfit in order to look more like a main street matron and less like a care-free college girl.

To know what an impact the beautiful Mrs. Kennedy has already had on the fashion world all you need to do is glance through a fashion magazine and see how many of the current models have the Jackie Kennedy look.

Now that the new First Lady has won the battle to be herself and to be a pace setter instead of a fashion follower, you can bet your bottom dollar that Mrs. America is going to follow Mrs. Kennedy's fashion leads.

All over the country women will be imitating her hairdo, copying her clothes and trying to achieve her air of careless, unconcerned elegance.

Just thought I'd better explain what's happening and why, in case your wife starts throwing out her matronly looking little flowered hats and her "basic black dresses" and turns a jaundiced eye on the fur stole she once thought she couldn't live without—in favor of a younger, gayer, more colorful and casual-looking wardrobe.

Six months from now the "new look" will be the young "Jackie" look. And women of all ages will be doing everything possible to achieve it.

The Grace V. Metcalf class of the Methodist Sunday School held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John Vandavey Friday afternoon. ANCIENT AND OBSCURE
The custom of women proposing marriage in leap years is very ancient, but nobody knows just how it got started and no satisfactory explanation of the curious tradition ever has been offered.

Venezuela is a Spanish name meaning "Little Venice." Legend has it that the country got that name when explorer Alonso de Ojeda sailed into Lake Maracaibo in 1499 and found Indians living over the water in houses built on stilts.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DUPLICATE FANS GO FOR TOPS

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
I intend to start out the year with a discussion of duplicate as against rubber bridge strategy. South's two no-trump opening is irregular, but it is not a bad bid. However, he winds up at three no-trump while an orthodox heart opening would lead to a four-heart contract.

East wins the first trick with the ace of spades and returns the suit. At rubber bridge South has no problem. He runs out his nine top tricks for game and rubber.

In duplicate he must consider taking the diamond finesse and he must take it before running the hearts. If it works, he will make five odd. If it goes wrong, he will be down at least one trick. Nevertheless, correct match point strategy dictates that he take it. Why? Because he notes that his hand and the North hand are such that every pair in the field will be in game and he also notes that the great majority will be in four hearts.

In hearts, the diamond finesse may be taken with complete safety. If it loses, declarer will still make four hearts; if it works he will make five hearts.

Hence three no-trump bid made will be very little better than three no-trump down one at match points, but five no-trump made will be a top score.

Opening lead—♠9

West's opening spade lead is a doubtful strategy at either duplicate or rubber bridge. With a bad hand it nearly always pays to open your partner's suit and hope for the best.

At rubber bridge South will undoubtedly run off his nine tricks in diamonds and spades, whereupon East will take the last four.

At duplicate South must study the overtrick possibilities. He can see that three no-trump is a normal contract and that everyone else will be looking at that same nice holding in diamonds and spades so South will try for more. The best play is to win the first trick with dummy's ace of spades and to lead the deuce of hearts.

If East is alert, and most duplicate players are alert, he will go right up with the ace of hearts and cash his three good clubs to hold South to that same nine tricks.

Suppose, though, that East is both alert and ready to gamble. He will rise with the ace of hearts and then lead the three of clubs. This time the gamble will succeed. South won't be clairvoyant. He will play a low club. West will make his ten and a club return will set the hand.

In Hollywood

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Erika Peters, a luscious German import, is unique. She's the only Hollywood actress who takes in laundry.

"Sometimes when I don't get the part on an interview," she confesses, "I startle the producer by recommending my laundry service."

Erika, 25, sacrifices no glamour with her sideline. She's just a shrewd business woman who will probably wind up owning a studio one day. Remember what happened to Desi Arnaz?

She's only been in this country three years but those three years are a lesson in German ingenuity.

First of all, she speaks English fluently with little or no accent. "I worked so hard to lose my accent that I have just been sized to make a movie in Germany to play an American girl," she beams.

In fact, she has only played one German character since coming here—a recent role on "The Untouchables." She had to fake a German accent.

She was still under contract to Berolina Studios in Berlin when she first came over here. She has made six trips back and forth for films. A sideline on the trips earned her more money than the acting.

"I wasn't here long before I noticed everybody was on a waiting list for Volkswagens, so every time I took a trip to Berlin, I bought a half dozen or so Volkswagens, and exported them here. Now that Volkswagens are easier to get, I have invested my money in automatic laundries. They are coin-operated and require little or no personal supervision."

What's more, it's a lucrative business that leaves her plenty of time for acting. She's a TV regular and recently starred in Allied Artists' "Heroes Die Young."

She's also up for "The Eighth Man Story" at the same studio. Where did she learn such self reliance? Such innate business sense?

"Both my mother and father were killed by the Russians in the war," she says. "I have been on my own since I was a little girl. Either you become self reliant when you are alone—or you become a bum or a waif in an orphanage."

New Secretary Of State Must Cope With Comintern

By LEON DENNEN
Newspaper Enterprise Analyst
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—(NEA)—The toughest problem facing the new Secretary of State Dean Rusk is how to cope with the worldwide activities of the new Communist International.

It is now evident that the Comintern, or International, dissolved by Stalin in 1943, has been re-established as the supreme body for fomenting revolution in the non-Communist countries and settling disputes in the Communist bloc.

This, in fact, is regarded by U.S. specialists on Soviet-Chinese relations as the outstanding result of the recent Moscow conference of top Reds from 81 countries.

The revived Comintern apparently will be patterned on the old organization originally founded by Lenin in 1919 to undermine the West through subversion, sabotage and violence. Its headquarters again will be Moscow.

However, Soviet Premier Khrushchev, according to East European diplomats, had to bow to the wishes of Red China's Mao Tse-tung and consent to the creation of "regional" Comintern branches in China (for Asia) and Cuba (for Latin America).

Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Cuba's economic dictator who has just returned to Havana after visiting Peking and Moscow, is reported to have been designated Comintern chief for Latin America.

The restoration of the Comintern was especially urged by Liu Shao-chi, Mao's representative at the Moscow conference. The Chinese leader complained that the absence of the Comintern weakened international communism in an "era of revolutions."

and national liberation wars." Mao's emissary reportedly argued that the nations of Latin America, Asia and Africa needed a "guiding line" for their rapidly developing circumstances of the kind that only a body embracing all Communist parties could provide.

Lenin's old Comintern, at least in its early stages, was made up of all Communist parties with an equal voice in its deliberations. But when Stalin seized power after Lenin's death, it became merely a tool of Russian foreign policy.

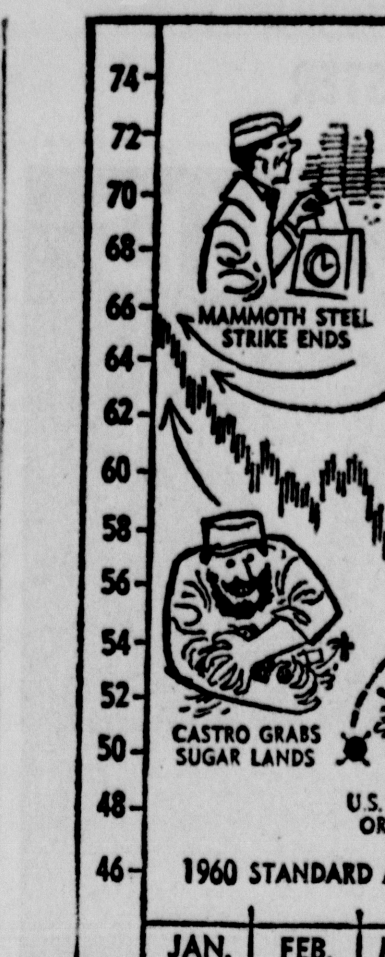

The last congress of the old Comintern held in Moscow in 1935 was a typical piece of Stalin stage management. Decisions were made in advance by the dictator himself and the member parties merely paid lip service to the Comintern's "democracy."

When Hitler's armies were already deep in Russia in 1943, Stalin, to appease his wartime allies, President Roosevelt and Britain's Winston Churchill, abolished the Comintern altogether without even consulting the other parties.

He revived it in 1947, disguised as the Communist Information Bureau (Cominform) with headquarters at first in Belgrade. After the break with Tito, the Cominform moved to Bucharest. However, the Cominform was limited mostly to Moscow's East European satellite leaders who became rulers in their own countries.

The Cominform, in turn, was dissolved in 1956 by Khrushchev when the Soviet Premier embarked on his so-called policy of peaceful coexistence.

From 1956 until the recent Red summit conference in Moscow, Russia's voice was supreme in the Communist world. But in the newly MARKET'S REACTION TO 1960 NEWS — Listlessness was characteristic of the stock market during 1960. A gradual decline marked the first quarter. The next three months pointed to an annual record gross national product of 505 billion dollars. The third quarter slid off the pace, except for a flurry after stock margin requirements were cut from 90 to 70 per cent. Depressing news at home and abroad, see graph above, and a slump in consumer spending were caution signs for business. Good news had only momentary effects.

Business was on the downside the last quarter of the year. The words "aid to distressed areas" were heard frequently in the political campaigns; the rolls of the jobless mounted. Brighter prospects seem in store for 1961. Auto sales are up; steel looks for a spring advance; savings accounts are at a 307 billion peak; consumer demand appears strong and proposed construction of roads, schools and residential building presages a strong year for the building trades, which suffered the worst year since end of World War II.

The blue mold that gives Roquefort cheese its distinctive flavor is Penicillium roqueforti, which is similar to the mold that produces penicillin.

re-established Comintern which will include all Communist parties, Russia, it is now clear, will have to share honors with Red China.

This was disclosed by East Germany's boss, Walter Ulbricht, among others. An old Comintern war-horse, Ulbricht is known in the Red world as a quick-change artist who survived all the blood purges because he always understood how to adapt himself in time to each zig-zag in the party line.

At the Moscow conference Ulbricht revealed, Russia was "unanimously recognized" as the "most experienced and most steely pillar" of communism. In the past Russia was always described as standing "at the head" of world communism.

This type of Red doubletalk may seem meaningless to the non-Communist world. But for Communists it has doctrinal and practical importance.

It signifies that any future attempts by Moscow to dictate decisions as Stalin did might be challenged by other Communist parties, especially by the one in China.

Mr. and Mrs. George Overton recently returned to their home at Santa Monica, Calif., after spending the Christmas vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edith Cody, 223 East College avenue, and with other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Overton is the former Kathryn Kelly, 223 East College avenue. The Overtons also visited his brothers in the Winchester vicinity and a sister at Duplo, Ill. En route to their home they will visit with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters and son, Chuck, Phoenix, Ariz., also former Jacksonville residents.

Even for a veteran lawman, Arrington's name was one to inspire respect. But Bart sensed something wrong. "Heard about you," he said.

Catherine's back was turned while she poured coffee. Arrington took the cigar out of his mouth. "Lot of people have," he said. "Not always pleasantly."

Catherine sat the cup across the table from Arrington. "Captain Arrington was telling me stories about the war. He was in—what was it, Captain?"

"Mosby's Guerrillas," said Bart, sitting down.

CALENDAR REFORM — Proponents of a world calendar are pressing their claim that a scientifically designed, standardized calendar would be a boon to humanity. They point out that Jan. 1, 1967, would be good date to dovetail proposed calendar, above, and present calendar, below. Changes are slight—only seven dates out of 365 days: February gains two new dates—29 and 30; March loses 31st. April gains a 31st. May loses 31st. August loses 31st. December 31st is changed to December W—World-day, world holiday. Leap year day is another world holiday, dated June W.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

XIX
The sun had gone down when he turned the last corner and saw the Quarter Circle J B spread out before him.

He made out a yellow light in the window of the sod house, and let the black slow to a trot. In 15 minutes he was near the house and saw a dark bay horse ground-tied near the front door. He frowned, but he knew it was not an outlaw's horse, so he took off the black's saddle and threw it over a low limb of the cottonwood tree. The black was sweating hard from the evening's run. He patted its neck and sent it on to graze. Then he walked to the house.

Catherine was standing, with her back to the stove, laughing at something that had been said. The man at the table was 35 years old, small, slender, black-haired, and wore a small black goatee.

Catherine looked at Bart, and the sight of him seemed to remind her of something that sobered her instantly. "Bart, this is Captain Arrington of the Texas Rangers."

Even for a veteran lawman, Arrington's name was one to inspire respect. But Bart sensed something wrong. "Heard about you," he said.

Catherine's back was turned while she poured coffee. Arrington took the cigar out of his mouth. "Lot of people have," he said. "Not always pleasantly."

Catherine sat the cup across the table from Arrington. "Captain Arrington was telling me stories about the war. He was in—what was it, Captain?"

"Mosby's Guerrillas," said Bart, sitting down.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

Arrington found the place where the bullet had entered Tex-Mex's body, and studied its course.

He wiped the blade of a big jackknife on his levis, and put the knife in his pocket. "He was hit in the side," he said, and held a bulbous-looking piece of lead for them to see. "It's no Sharps, Wagner."

"They burned the shed," Bart said. "They've been trying to burn the house."

"You have evidence to support it?"

Bart was slow answering. "It looks as if it's my word against Xenophon Jones's," he said.

"We're trying to establish law," Arrington said. "We start wherever we can." "And you're taking me in," Arrington's eyes went flat. "We'll go back to the house and I'll give you your six-shooters and an even draw," he said.

Bart said, "I don't like drawing on a Texas Ranger. That's not saying I won't," he added quickly. "But I don't like it."

"Then it will be up to a jury. You know that as well as I do." "Meantime, Jones is running loose."

"Meantime also," said Arrington, "we are showing everybody we mean business, and we are creating respect for the law."

"Where will you be Monday?"

"No telling," said Arrington. Bart said sarcastically, "Maybe you could do better to turn your talents to seeing that court is held properly and without intimidation."

Arrington sighed. "Maybe life's ride with unmistakable

"How?" Bart inquired. "Dig up the body." Bart finished his coffee and shrugged.

"Before we go any further," said Arrington, "who was shooting what?"

Bart said, "I had a pair of 44's."

"And she had the big Sharps?"

Bart hesitated. "I fired the Sharps too," he said.

"But—" Catherine was wide-eyed.

Arrington got up. "If the bullet went in from the front, it will help," he said. "And if it was a Sharps slug, it might have come from either of you."

In that case, we might assume it was fired by Mrs. Lewis, because nobody could prove otherwise, and I think a jury would not blame her. But if it was a 44 slug, I'll have to take you along, Bart."

He bowed slightly to Catherine. "In spite of the fact that Mrs. Lewis has vouched for you."

They were up at daylight, and Catherine had breakfast ready. Arrington finished, and said to Bart: "I hate to make you dig him up after you worked so hard to bury him."

Bart stopped abruptly. "I'm not digging up one shovelful, Captain Arrington, unless the state of Texas agrees to pay me for it."

"I'll ask you to take turns with me."

Bart took a deep breath and looked at Arrington. "Asking is different."

"I should have known that," Arrington sighed. "I'll flip a quarter to see who starts."

Bart nodded. The quarter came heads, and Bart picked up the shovel and started for the grave. "What was this home-bred's name?" he asked.

"Tex-Mex was all the name I ever knew. He used to be down at Fort Concho."

menace. "Wagner," said Arrington, "can't you persuade her to put that thing down?"

Bart could not restrain a grin. "She's a very determined woman, captain."

Arrington began to look a little harassed. "Look here, Wagner, you know better than that."

"I know better than to take an innocent man to Clarendon, too."

"Clarendon? You're going to Mobettie?"

Bart, baffled, said, "Why Mobettie?"

"There's a justice at Mobettie."

"Put on your guns, Bart," said Catherine, "and I'll keep him long enough for you to get away."

Bart glanced at Arrington, enjoying it. "I better tell you goodbye first," he said to Catherine.

Her brown eyes widened, and he saw the sudden warmth in them. He went around the table, and by that time he had almost forgotten she was holding the rifle.

He put his arms around her, clamping the rifle between the two of them, and kissed her.

Though he had known she would accept him, he was astonished at the fervor of her response.

Arrington's dry voice came from behind her: "All right."

Catherine fought herself free from Bart's arms and struggled with the rifle. But Bart put his big hand on the barrel and turned it away.

Arrington said thoughtfully, "I'll ask Goodnight to keep an eye on the J B until you get back."

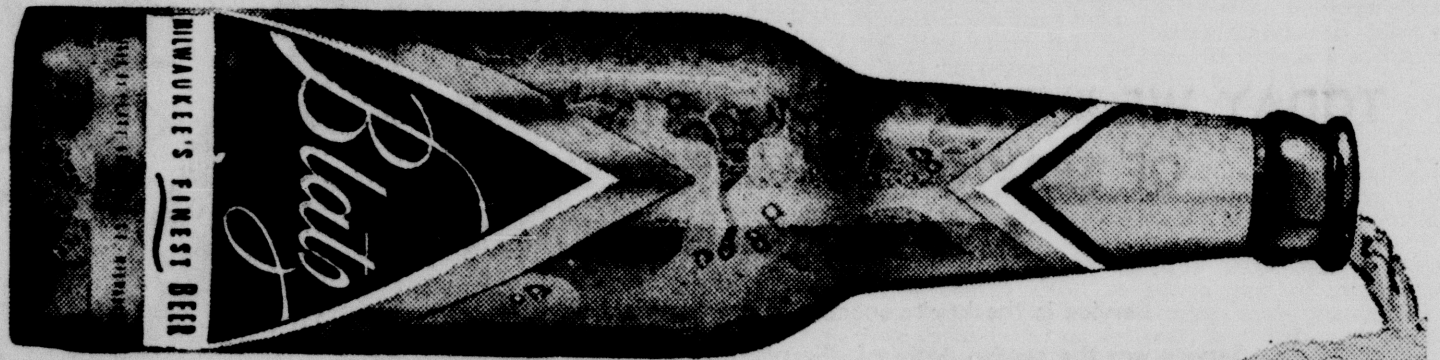

"What makes you think I'm coming back?"

"With her waitin' for you," he said, "you'd be crazy not to."

EGG PRODUCTION LINE—Eggs moving along a conveyor belt typify a new production system at Cargill-Nutrena research farm in Elk River, Minn. Automatic equipment ventilates, feeds, waters, nests, lights and gathers eggs. Slanted floors in nests allow eggs to roll into plastic carriers for trip to gathering room. Misses run less than 2 per cent in the new system as against a normal 8-10 per cent loss.

HOUSE FULL OF GENERALS

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Four of five Civil War generals from Lancaster came from one house. They were Maj. Gen. Thomas Ewing, Maj. Gen. Hugh Ewing, Brig. Gen. Charles Ewing—all brothers—and Gen. William T. Sherman, who was raised by the Ewing family.

The fifth was Bvt. Brig. Gen. J. A. Stafford. In addition, two other generals—Maj. Gen. Philomen Beecher and Brig. Gen. Samuel F. Macracken—lived within a block of the Ewing home but died before the war.

Iowa Residents Visit Friends At White Hall

WHITE HALL—Rev. and Mrs. Ben A. Bohn of Council Bluffs, Iowa, have been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, near Carrollton and friends in this community.

Mrs. Dean Cora of this city is making a prolonged visit in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Noah, in Bethesda, Md., their address being 5006 Keystone Ave. Mrs. Noah, the former Nancy Cora, who was seriously ill in a hospital, was able to return to her home for Christmas. Mrs. Cora suffered a chipped bone in her foot recently but has recovered and expects to be with the Noahs until the spring months.

Mr. and Mrs. Henschel Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Pruitt attended installation services of the Masonic Lodge in Jacksonville on Wednesday night.

Miss Sandra Sue Search of Lexington, Ky., is spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Search, and her grandmother, Mrs. W. D. Davis.

Major and Mrs. Jack Anderson and family are here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Anderson. They are also visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Neihaus in Warrenton, Mo., before their return to California.

M/Sgt. Carol and Mrs. Dean and son, Michael, are visiting relatives for the holidays, having been located in Florida.

Don Kesinger, a senior at Kansas State University, is spending the holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kesinger.

JUST FOR LAUGHS—Miky D'Angio literally pays lip service to her art in Rome. The Indian-born painter outdoes the drip-splatter-splash school and uses her feet, hands and lips to place paint on canvas. Miss D'Angio is really a serious painter; she's just ribbing modern art.

Dean Rusk, educator and diplomat, was born in Cherokee County, Georgia, in 1909.

From 1934 to 1940, he was associate professor of government at Mills College in Oakland, Calif. Then the war intervened.

Rusk entered the Army in 1940. After the war, he served in numerous posts in the government, the last being Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs.

Since 1952, he has directed the Rockefeller Foundation's vast work.

Dean Rusk, chosen to be Secretary of State by John F. Kennedy, typifies the new "intellectual" look of the State Department. A noted student in his youth, he won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford in 1933. He served in Burma during the war, emerging in 1946 as a colonel. He has worked for both the War and State Departments. As director of the multimillion-dollar philanthropic Rockefeller Foundation, he has come in contact with leading men throughout the world. Rusk is considered a man of ability and determination. Married in 1937, he has two sons and a daughter.

REPLACEMENT—Gov. J. J. (Joe) Hickey of Wyoming, above, a Democrat, will be new U.S. senator replacing Keith Thomson, the Republican senator-elect who died Dec. 9. Hickey will resign as governor so that the secretary of state can become governor and make the appointment.

Belgium Advised To Stay Out Of Congo Strife

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in a sharp protest has called on Belgium again to stay out of the Congo's internal strife.

Hammarskjöld published a note to Belgium Ambassador Walter Lorrain Monday protesting that Belgium aided Col. Joseph Mobutu's troops by letting them pass through the Belgian-administered trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi to get at rebels in neighboring Kivu Province.

The secretary-general said Belgium's action had violated the U.N. resolution calling on all nations to keep hands off the Congo and leave peace-making there to the U.N. force.

Hammarskjöld demanded Belgium "take immediate and effective measures to insure that there will be no possibility of Belgian authorities in the trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi or elsewhere lending support directly or indirectly to military action by Congolese troops."

FINNISH PLANE BLOWS UP, 25 PERSONS DIE

VAASA, Finland (AP)—All 25 persons aboard a Finnish airliner were killed early today when the DC3 crashed into a wooded area north of the west coast port of Vaasa, Finnish police reported.

Kahlevi Tialinen, a farmer who rushed to the scene of the crash, said:

"There was a sudden explosion in the air, and the plane became a giant torch which plunged straight down."

School Boycott Remains Strong In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The white boycott of New Orleans integrated schools weakened only a little today after the 10-day holiday vacation.

Thirteen white children and a Negro girl attended classes at William Frantz school. Eight white children attended prior to the Christmas vacation.

But, at McDonogh No. 19 school three Negro girls had the three-story school to themselves—just as it was before Christmas.

U. S. deputy marshals still escorted children into the two schools. There were no demonstrations in the biting 40-plus degree chill.

With the holidays over, the New Orleans School Board renewed its struggle to find money to pay teachers, who have missed one of the last two paychecks.

The Orleans Parish school board is scheduled to receive bids Jan. 9 on a $12,750,000 loan. The board has asked the State Bond and Tax Board to authorize the loan. School board funds have been tied up in litigation involving the state and federal government and the school board.

WON'T GIVE UP HER CHILDREN. MOTHER JAILED

CHICAGO (AP)—A defiant young mother says she will remain in jail rather than surrender her two children to her divorced husband.

Mrs. Mary Jane Jeffries, 22, was sent to Cook county jail last Thursday to await extradition to Florida where she is charged with contempt for spurning away her children, Richard 3 1/2 and Kelly Flynn, 14. Their custody has been awarded to her former husband, Edward T. Jeffries II, and his parents.

Mrs. Jeffries, a slim attractive brunette, who has refused to turn the children over to the court, is quartered in the jail's hospital tier. She said yesterday:

"I am prepared to keep this up until I can be with my children again. I have no intentions of ever giving them up."

Mrs. Jeffries said she was surprised she was sent to jail. "I never believed there was a judge on earth who would put a mother in jail for taking her own children," she said.

She said if she is ordered removed to Florida, she is ready to go to jail rather than give up her children. She charges her former husband does not love the children.

"They can't let me stay in jail forever," she said. "There's a limit to everything."

Jeffries, who is in the U. S. Navy, won a divorce last Dec. 7 after a 4 1/2 year marriage.

The children have been staying with Mrs. Jeffries' parents, who have said they will help her fight extradition to Florida.

INDONESIANS SEEK HEAVY RED ARMS

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Premier Khrushchev conferred today with Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution and other members of the Indonesian delegation in Moscow to buy arms.

The Indonesians contend they need heavy arms because they are threatened by Dutch forces in western New Guinea. They say Western nations have refused to sell them anything but small arms.

Hunger, Horror Holiday Fare For Tot, 3

NEW YORK (AP)—Three-year-old Patricia McKiernan lay in critical condition in Misericordia Hospital today after a holiday ordeal of horror and starvation.

A Housing Authority patrolman found her Monday in a Bronx apartment, sitting by her mother's body, staring blankly and shivering.

Her mother, Jennie McKiernan, 33, lay on the floor. She had been dead for days of a heart attack.

The child was so emaciated and dehydrated she was unable to walk or talk.

A Christmas tree still sparkled with tinsel in the living room. Under it was Patricia's doll and other toys.

Patrolman James Fortuno took her to the hospital, where she was given clear soup and milk.

Fortuno had gone to the apartment at the request of relatives who knew of Mrs. McKiernan's heart condition and were worried because they had not been able to reach her. Mrs. McKiernan's husband died three years ago and she and Patricia lived on social security payments.

A medical examiner said Mrs. McKiernan had been dead at least five days.

Attempt To Open Safe Starts Fire, Currency Burns

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Police thwarted an attempted safe robbery at the Union National Bank in downtown East St. Louis Monday night and arrested Kenneth Mueller, 26, of St. Louis.

Police said Mueller apparently had been working with a second man inside the bank who escaped. They were unable to open the night depository vault, but a fire was started inside by their use of acetylene torches and it was believed a quantity of money was destroyed by fire. Mueller is a former associate of racket boss Frank (Buster) Wortman.

Mueller was arrested by Sgt. Al Witt and patrolman Edward C. Baker after a long chase on foot through alleys and empty lots near the bank. Baker fired two warning shots.

The officers were making a routine check when they saw Mueller running in a parking lot near the bank.

After his arrest, Mueller dropped a key as he talked to the officers after they turned down his offer of $20 to let him go. Mueller said it was his house key but later officers found it fit the bank's front door.

On the way to headquarters, the officers heard a radio report that robbers were in the bank vault. This report had been turned in by the porter, Quincy Suttles, who smelled smoke when he came to clean and saw smoke coming from a hole burned in the vault. The torches and burglar tools later were found in the bank.

Witt and Baker found a door at the rear of the bank open. It led to a drive-in teller's cage which was connected to the bank by an underground passageway. Police said the second man apparently fled in Mueller's car parked near the cage.

Junior Crackshot Uses Cop's Gun To Slay Robber

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A teenage expert marksman grabbed a wounded policeman's service revolver and killed a robbery suspect Monday night.

Gerald Watson, 17, Indianapolis, took the pistol from patrolman Elmer W. Cibul, 27, wounded in the left side. Watson, who had taught marksmanship at the YMCA, said, "I took aim, closed my eyes and fired."

The bullet struck James P. Rayborn, 21, Gary, in about the same place the patrolman was hit, and he fell dead. Watson said he earlier had seen three men "acting suspiciously" in the area. When they followed him, he ran home, phoned police and then returned to the scene.

Cibul answered the call and was questioning Rayborn when Carl W. Kinchlow, 18, Indianapolis, came out from between two houses and fired two shots at the patrolman's back, police said.

Witnesses told police a third man jumped into a car during the excitement and fled. Police said all three suspects were Negroes.

Belgian Unions Call For Mass Demonstrations

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Armed troops stood guard throughout Belgium today as Socialist unions called on strikers for a wave of mass demonstrations to accompany the reopening of Parliament.

Soldiers with rifles and sub-machineguns were on duty at every strategic point in the country. Power plants, railroads and public buildings all had their quota of uniformed men, determined to prevent any sabotage by striking Socialist workers.

With their nationwide strike now entering its third week, the Socialists called for mass rallies in every city in the country in a new bid to force Premier Gaston Eyskens' Catholic-Conservative government to withdraw its austerity bill raising taxes and cutting social services.

All metal workers also were called on strike today, and Brussels streetcars were due to stop again.

The port of Antwerp was crippled as were most large plants in south Belgium, the French-speaking Walloon area where the Socialists are strongest.

Praises Castro, Gets Punched In The Nose

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Chicagoan's kind words for Fidel Castro provoked pugnaous reaction even before the landing of an airliner that brought home some Americans who visited Cuba under sponsorship of the "Fair Play for Cuba" committee.

The disenter was Lewis McWillie of Miami, ex-manager of a Havana night club Tropicana who said he was returning from Cuba for good Monday.

Police listed the Chicagoan as Laverne Kautz, 54, of 2456 Estes Ave. McWillie quoted Kautz as praising Castro. He said he told Kautz "When I get you back on free American soil I'm going to punch you in the nose." He did.

Police questioned the group but made no arrests.

Kautz said he "couldn't see why McWillie found it necessary to attack people merely because of a difference of opinion."

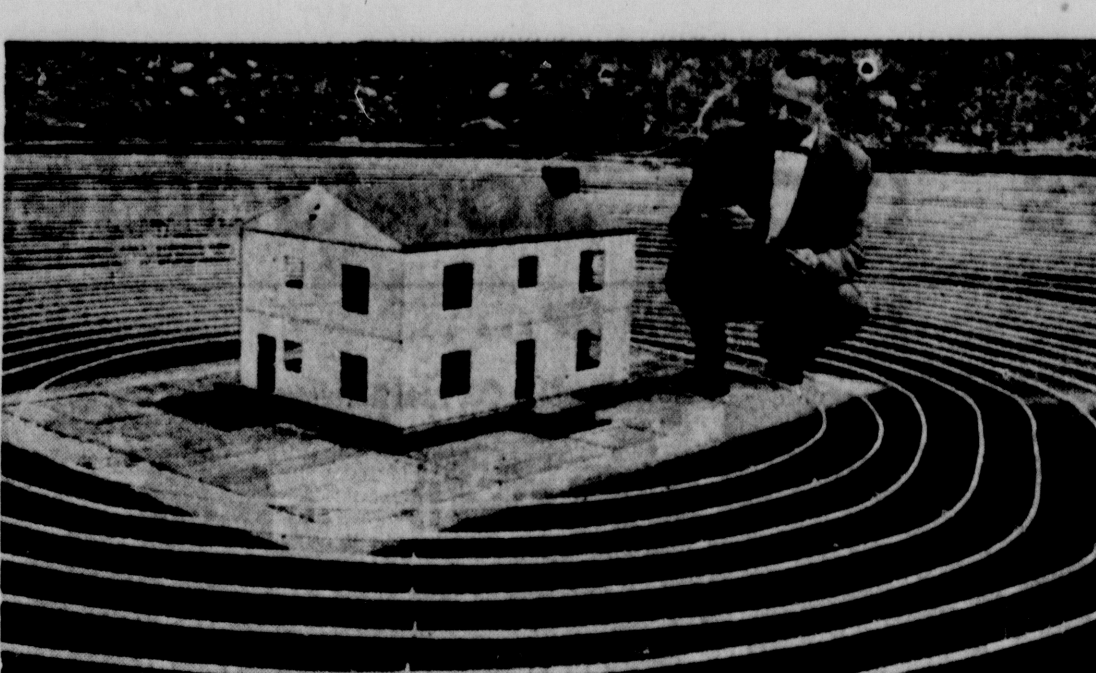

McWillie said "I lost my temper."

"It's getting real bad over there (Cuba)."

The plane he returned on, McWillie said was "full of beanbills, long-hairs and screwballs."

PHYSICIAN DIES

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Arthur H. Ruggles, 79, retired physician-in-chief and superintendent of Butler Hospital in Providence, R. I., and nationally known in the field of mental hygiene, died Monday.

NUCLEAR HOUSEKEEPING—Dr. Eric T. Clark, a physicist, holds a dummy radioactive source of the type used to create a field of radiation around the model house in Burlington, Mass. Under study is fallout protective measures in tests sponsored by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. In actual use, a cobalt source of 10-curie strength travels through a mile of polyethylene tubing. It simulates radiation as it would be generated from radioactive fallout scattered over house and grounds. The protection offered the rooms in house can then be checked.

Feel Ohio Game Warden Slain By Hunters

PORTLAND, Ind. (AP)—A veteran Hoosier game warden, shot to death on a desolate county road, 10 miles southeast of here Sunday night may have been the victim of hunters, police said.

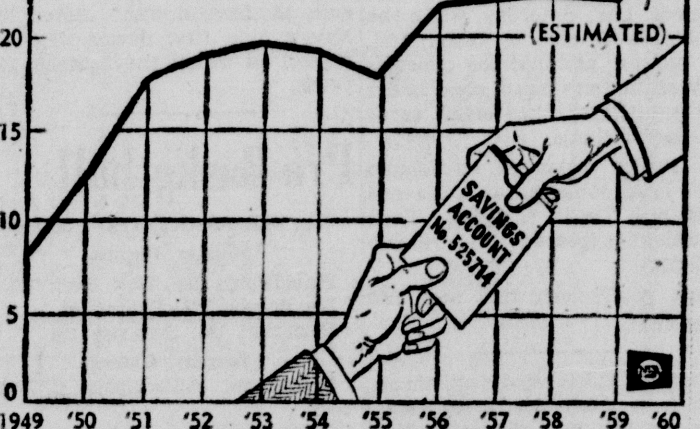

The body of James D. Pitzer, 54, Portland, was found lying on a gravel road—a fatal shotgun wound in the head. Witnesses told police they saw the game warden talking to two men in a panel truck early in the day.

One witness said he saw the panel truck speeding away from the scene, about a mile from the Indiana-Ohio border. Sheriff George Scott of Jay County said he believed the pair was rabbit hunting and Pitzer stopped them for a routine check, found they were without licenses or had more than the limit, and was shot.

A game warden 18 years, Pitzer was married and had a son and daughter. Officials of the State Conservation Department reported it was the first time on record a game officer was killed in the line of duty.

Says Willie Mays Has Left Wife. Wants Divorce

NEW YORK (AP)—The World-Telegram and Sun today reported that baseball star Willie Mays has moved out of his home in New Rochelle and will start divorce proceedings against his wife.

The standout center fielder of the San Francisco Giants, 28, was married to St. Valentine's Day, 1956. They have an adopted 2-year-old son. The family also includes Mrs. Mays' 14-year-old daughter by one of two previous marriages.

The newspaper said Mrs. Mays, 31, conceded there have been "frictions" between the couple but refused to deny or confirm the report that they are splitting up.

Mays reportedly was driving to Birmingham, Ala., where members of his family live to start divorce proceedings.

Clews Are Scant In Death Of St. Louis Girl

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police had little to work with today in their search for the person who beat and strangled a 13-year-old girl Sunday.

The blood-soaked, partially clad body of Barbara Jean Black was found Monday lying beneath the van of a tractor trailer, just a block from her home in South St. Louis.

The discovery ended an all-night search by relatives, neighbors and police which began after Barbara failed to return home from a movie.

There was no medical evidence of rape but the body was clad only in underclothing. Her short top coat had been dropped on her.

The owner of the parking lot, Theodore Spinner, 72, found the body. Barbara was the daughter of Mrs. Naomi Black, 36, and Richard H. Black, 39, an aircraft factory worker during the day and police sergeant of a small suburban community at night. They are divorced.

The victim and a 13-year-old friend had walked to a neighborhood theater. The friend and another 13-year-old girl, who pointed them in the movie, left at the end of the four-hour show. But Barbara said she wanted to "stay on and see a little more."

When Barbara was not home by dark her mother initiated a search.

Soybeans Climb On War News

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybean futures, with another broad advance, again climbed to their highest prices of the season today on all old crop contracts in active dealings on the Board of Trade.

At times, some deliveries were bid up four cents or more in early transactions and the January contract was up six cents but the extreme advances failed to hold against more liberal selling at those peaks.

The demand was credited to Communist intervention in Laos which some political spokesmen described as a serious situation.

However, the grains moved up only fractions generally in slow dealings.

At midday, soybeans were 3-31 cents a bushel higher, January $2.33 1/2; wheat 1 cent lower to 1 1/2 higher, March $2.08 1/2; corn 1-1/4 higher, March $1.10; oats 1-1/4 higher, March 65 1/2; rye 1 higher, March $1.17 1/2.

Wheat finished 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 3/4 higher, March $2.08 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, March $1.10 1/4; oats 1-1/4 higher, March 65 1/2; rye 1 higher, March $1.17 1/2; soybeans 3 1/4 to 5 1/4 higher, January $2.33 1/2.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Weakness in a few blue chips pushed an irregular stock market to the downside on average early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

The Associated Press average of 90 stocks at noon was off 80 at 220.10 with the industrials off 1.70, rails up 30 and utilities off 30.

The first day of 1961 stock trading found most key issues showing little if any change.

But American Telephone, star of the late 1960 market, was joined by some heavy profit taking as it topped 3 1/4 to 104 on an early block of 12,000 shares. It continued to trade about 3 points lower as the session wore on.

Heavy reinvestment demand in the opening session of 1961 did not materialize as some Wall Street expected.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.70 at 612.19. Corporate bonds were mixed and U.S. government bonds declined in light trading.

Auburn Keyed To Peak Toward Another Title

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Joel Eaves' Auburn Tigers, a dead-eye bunch that counts it a bad game unless half their shots connect, are sharpened to a peak for the long push toward another Southeastern Conference basketball championship.

The Tigers, who swept to the SEC crown last season by winning their last nine games behind blistering accuracy, ran their two-season streak to 15 Monday night with a 76-50 breeze over Florence State.

It was the 36th straight home triumph and the last warm-up for the Tigers, who get down to the business of defending their conference championship Saturday against Mississippi State. They did it with the "make-each-shot-count" formula that Eaves has preached since he took the Auburn reins. Auburn blended another balanced attack, with Ray Groover and Dave Vaughn each scoring 18 points and Jimmy Fible adding 15.

Now 6-0 for the 1960-61 campaign, the 10th-ranked Tigers have back five of the top seven men who led them to a 1953 season a year ago and led the nation in field goal accuracy with 52.1 per cent and free throw accuracy with 77.2 per cent.

Auburn's sixth triumph of the new season came on a relatively slim night on the college boards. Drake, beaten only by second-ranked Bradley in double overtime in nine starts, won the Queen City Invitation championship at Buffalo by nipping Canisius 79-77 on Bill Hahn's jump shot with five seconds left. Jim Guydon, voted the tournament's most valuable player, scored 22 points.

Princeton took third place in the tournament, beating Connecticut 88-76 as Pete Campbell scored 26 points.

Dave Debusschere, recovered from a nagging ankle injury, scored 29 points and plucked 26 rebounds as Detroit (8-2) routed Baldwin-Wallace 94-64 for its 23rd straight home victory. Kentucky won its sixth in nine tries from Miami, Ohio, 70-58 as Billy Ray Lickert scored 23 points.

DePaul, still unbeaten, made it eight straight with a 55-50 decision over Western Ontario behind 18 points from Little Howie Carl and 14 by M. C. Thompson. Frank Pinchback's 18 points and 19 rebounds led Xavier (8-3) in a 92-63 rout of Creighton.

Gophers Were Caught Napping In First Half

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Washington's Huskies, a team of surprises, speed and Schloredt, hit Minnesota's national champions where they weren't looking.

With a 17-7 victory in the Rose Bowl Monday, Washington emerged as the most successful Western Rose Bowl of the post-war era, a team unawed by Big Ten reputations.

The Huskies did it with the same clutch-playing stars of their victory last year over Wisconsin—Bob Schloredt, Don McKeta, George Fleming, et al.—plus some wrinkles the Gophers didn't expect.

The Big Ten co-champions weren't looking for Schloredt—the mended 1959 All-America playing his first game since mid-season—to cross them up and speed 31 yards on a simple quarterback sneak.

They didn't expect to be damaged up the middle, the stronghold of their defensive line, to see Washington pitch out and swing to the outside so often, or to see a part-time double wing offense.

Above all, they didn't think they could be shaken up so badly in the line as they were for the game-deciding first half. Once recovered, they played with their customary force and fury. Ultimately they won most of the statistics, except the big one.

"We just got the daylight beaten out of us in the first half," said a Gopher coaching aid. "We came back like the good football team we are in the second half, but it was too late."

Washington rolled up a 17-0 first half lead.

Ohio State Stays At Top Of Poll

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State, the defending national champion, stayed at the top of the weekly Associated Press basketball rating today. What's more the Buckeyes scored the maximum number of points for the third straight week.

Of the 36 votes cast by sports writers and sportscasters across the country who vote in the poll, every one had Ohio state at the top. That gave the Buckeyes 360 points.

The Ohio State sweep was hardly unexpected. Jerry Lucas and Co. won the Holiday Festival in New York last week and in the process dumped St. John's and St. Bonaventure, both of which had been undefeated. That made Ohio State's record 9-0.

Bradley stayed in second place, but lost 15 points in the process. The Braves have a 10-0 mark and collected 304 points on the usual system of 10 points for first, 9 for second and so on down the line.

St. Bonaventure, which gave a good account of itself in dropping an 84-82 decision to Ohio State in the Holiday Festival final, remained in third place with 264 votes.

Past the big three, though, there was a wholesale shakeup. Three members of the top 10 a week ago—Indiana, St. Louis and Auburn—dropped out. Indiana took the most emphatic nose dive, spilling all the way down from fourth.

The leaders with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (36)
2. Bradley
3. St. Bonaventure
4. Louisville
5. St. John's (N.Y.)
6. North Carolina
7. Iowa
8. Duke
9. UCLA
10. Auburn

Gibbs Is Mr. Big In Rebel Victory

By ED TUNSTALL
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Mathematicians will tell you there's no difference between one and one. But such reasoning could hardly apply to Mississippi quarterback Jake Gibbs, the big difference in a 14-6 Rebel victory over Rice in the Sugar Bowl.

Gibbs, a 22-year-old senior from Grenada in Mississippi's rolling hill country, rolled for both touchdowns before 82,851 fans in Tulane Stadium and millions more on national television Monday, and in general was the "Mr. Big" of the Rebel attack.

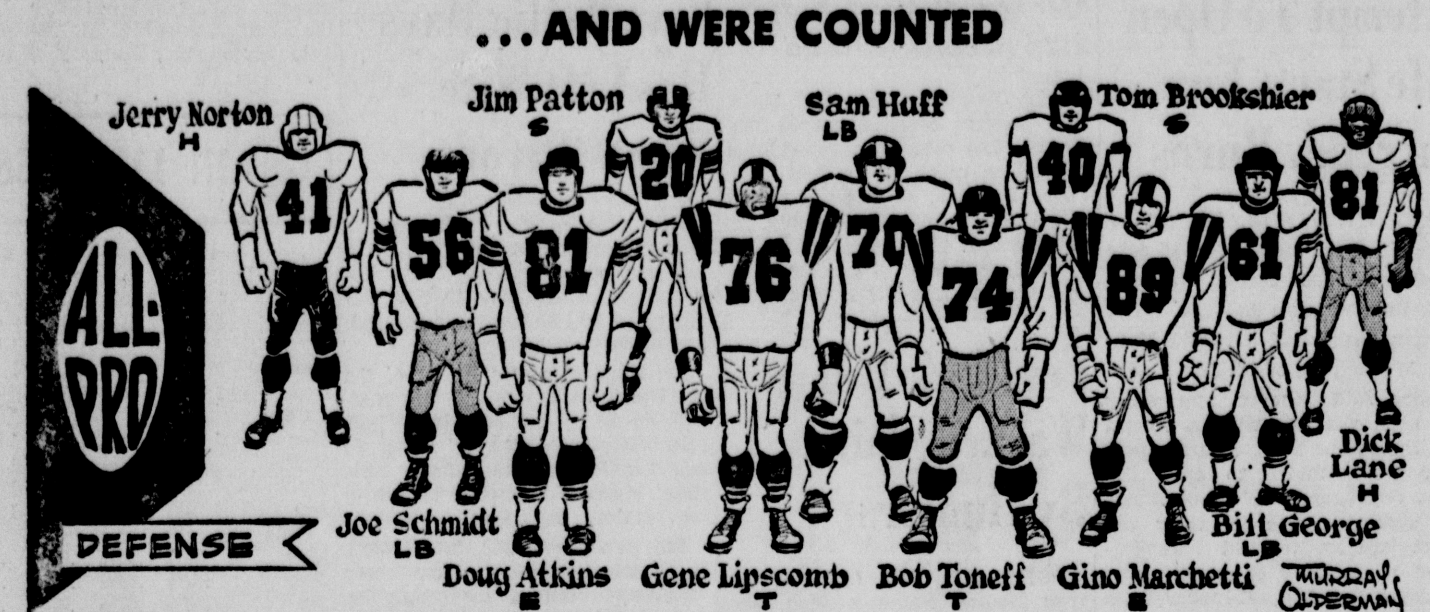

Gibbs earned All-America honors for his brilliant performance during the regular season when he guided the Rebels to a spot just behind Minnesota for the national football title.

The game was less than five minutes old when Gibbs circled left end for the first Mississippi touchdown. There were 11 minutes left in the game when he went over from the 3 for the second Rebel tally.

In between, the game was largely defensive with Mississippi thwarting three Rice drives, but the Owls did puncture the barriers for a third-quarter scoring march.

"We knew Gibbs was tough, and he was," said Rice Coach Jess Nease after the game. "If we hadn't let 'em get that first one so easy it might have been a different story."

Missouri Ends Bowl Frustration

Jokesters Have Their Fun At Huskies' Expense

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Did you wonder what happened to Washington's spelled-out card tricks in their rosters' section at the Rose Bowl?

Many a TV viewer must have been puzzled, as were some of the spectators, when, instead of "Huskies," the cards spelled "Cal Tech."

A couple of other half-time card displays didn't go according to plan, either.

Two students at the California Institute of Technology here owned up later that it was a prank. A number of their fellow students were involved in the complicated plot, they said.

The Cal Tech perpetrators said they got samples of the instruction cards to be attached to the backs of Washington rosters' cards. Then they had 2,232 spurious cards printed. Last Saturday, while the Huskies were visiting Disneyland, the plotters got into the quarters of Washington's head cheerleader and substituted the forged cards for the originals.

A Husky design of an Eskimo dog's head came out as a beaver's head, Cal Tech's insignia. Then "Huskies" appeared in reverse spelling.

Just good clean fun, said the jokesters.

Three of Yale's varsity swimmers came from outside the United States. They are Bob Boni of Manila, Harvey Gleason of Venezuela and Bill Kinnear of Argentina.

Washington's Huskies are the toast of the football world for the second consecutive year today after winning the Rose Bowl game with a sparkling display of all-around excellence against national champion Minnesota.

The Huskies, who last year swamped Big Ten champion Wisconsin 44-8 and astounded just about everyone outside the state of Washington, zipped past the Gophers Monday 17-7 to become the second team ever to succeed itself as Rose Bowl champion.

Not to be outdone in heroics was a solid 21-4 victory by Missouri over Navy, which included holding All-America back Joe Bellino to only four yards rushing. Duke answered critics of its selection as a Cotton Bowl participant by upsetting Arkansas 7-6 while Mississippi struck fast and had pesky Rice and win the Sugar Bowl 14-6 as a nearly 400,000 watched the four games in person and millions more saw them on television.

The Huskies used the same cast of characters who appeared in the Wisconsin debacle last Jan. 1. Quarterback Bob Schloredt, back for the first time since breaking a collarbone last Oct. 15, halfbacks Don McKeta and George Fleming and fullback Ray Jackson led the Washington attack. Center Roy McKasson and tackle Kurt Genger and Barry Buckler stood their ground against a heavier Minnesota line.

Schloredt, the first player ever to be chosen most valuable player twice in a row in Rose Bowl history, passed three yards to Brent Wooten for one score and got another on a quarterback sneak, setting up the latter with a 31-yard run.

McKeta's two key defensive plays against Gopher quarterback Sandy Stephens drew in Washington territory also were key factors. He threw him for a 13-yard loss on a third-down play at the Huskies' 6 and then on the next play intercepted his pass on the goal line.

Fleming kicked a record (school and Rose Bowl) 44-yard field goal and gave the Minnesota defense fits with his outside running as Washington piled up a 17-0 half-time lead before 97,314.

Missouri, while holding Bellino on the ground, saw him make a spectacular grab of a 27-yard touchdown pass by Hal Spooner. Earlier the Tigers had to snap back from a 98-yard run by end Greg Mather with an intercepted lateral.

They countered it with a 90-yard TD run by Norm Beal with an intercepted pass when Navy again threatened. A subsequent extra point by Bill Tobin put Missouri ahead for good.

Donnie Smith and Ron Taylor scored the other Missouri touchdowns in a game played before 71,217, including President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Jake Gibbs, Mississippi's All-America quarterback, scored both Mississippi touchdowns—the first before the game was five minutes old.

Duke's lonesome end, Tee Moorman, was lonesome in the Cotton Bowl end zone and quarterback Don Altman hit him with a nine-yard scoring toss in the final game.

Chamberlain still tops the loop scoring average with 36.7 points per game on 1,285 points in 35 games but trails Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers in total points. Baylor, who has played three more games than Wilt, has tallied 1,305 points in 38 games for a 34.3 average.

ARCHIE'S A POLITICAN

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Commenting on his defeat for a short-term as assemblyman in the state legislature, the veteran pugilist, Archie Moore, said: "Good things come to those who wait."

Moore, 47, wasn't announcing he would run again, but was remarking on the victory of his opponent, George Laphorne, 70, real estate man. It was his first political victory after numerous tries.

"Mr. Laphorne waited a long time," said Moore. "I am glad he will have the honor of holding this office."

Tro crown of the 1960 Yonkers, N. Y., harness racing meet was 36,834 on May 28.

Big O Trails The Stilt In Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson is making history in the pro basketball ranks for the Cincinnati Royals.

The Big O is the first player, rookie or veteran, in National Basketball Association annals to make the NBA's top five in so many different phases of play at this stage of the season.

With half the season nearly completed, the springy, 6-foot-5 shooter-playmaker is first in assists (37) and 9.3 average per game, third in scoring (12.7 points) and 30.4 average, first in field goal percentage (.475), and fifth in foul shooting (.836 percentage), according to league statistics released today.

Robertson is not listed among the leaders in only one department—rebounds. Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia is high man with 970 and a 27.7 average per game.

Chamberlain still tops the loop scoring average with 36.7 points per game on 1,285 points in 35 games but trails Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers in total points. Baylor, who has played three more games than Wilt, has tallied 1,305 points in 38 games for a 34.3 average.

Schloredt Stars In Washington's Second Straight Bowl Win

Chamberlain Scores 56 Points In 131-115 Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has come up with his biggest point production in a single league game this season, 56.

After the sparkling performance Monday night in which he bucketed 23 field goals in 37 attempts and 10 of 20 free throws in leading the Warriors to a 131-115 victory over New York, Chamberlain said it wasn't his best game of the season. The victory left Philadelphia only one game behind eastern division leader Boston.

Elgin Baylor hit for 42 points in Los Angeles, 123-113 victory over Detroit in the opener of the double-header.

Oscar Robertson scored 42 points, as his Cincinnati Royals beat Syracuse 126-123 at Ulica, N.Y., on two free throws the Big O sank with 27 seconds left.

Duke Rallies To Nip Arkansas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFE
DALLAS (AP)—Lonesome end Tee Moorman, the toe of Art Broning and some little things turned into breaks vindicated Duke's angry Blue Devils with a 7-6 victory over Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

The dogged Blue Devils, driving to atone for defeats in their last two games of the regular season, waited until the clock had nearly run its course Monday before they rolled 73 yards for the touchdown that gave them the triumph in their first appearance in the Cotton Bowl.

For a month the lonesome end of Duke, a big fellow who lined up 15 yards away from his mates on every down, had been the major topic. Coach Frank Broyles had told how he feared this maneuver and how tough it would be to stop it.

Broyles was a soothsayer—it was the lonesome end, Moorman, who kept that desperate drive going and it was Moorman, a lonely man in the end zone, who caught Don Altman's nine-yard pass for the touchdown that broke Arkansas' heart.

Browning, the big guard, planted the ball between the goal posts for the point that won the game. It was more than Mickey Cissell, the Arkansas place-kicker, aced, could do after the Arkansas touchdown. But Cissell had to contend with chunky Dave Unser, the surging Duke wingman. Unser smashed through to block the extra point effort and thwart Arkansas in its third try for victory in the Cotton Bowl.

Driver Scratched As Car Upsets In Ditch

Jacksonville's first automobile accident of the New Year resulted in the almost total destruction of a 1961 Chevrolet Corvair at 1:30 a.m. Sunday when it overturned in a ditch in the 1200 block on Lincoln avenue.

Gilbert Barnes, 40, of 324 South Clay avenue, driver of the car, sustained a slight cut in his forehead. He did not require hospitalization.

Police said the car was traveling south, veered to the east side of the avenue and into a ditch. The wrecked vehicle was towed to the John Ellis Chevrolet Garage. Police listed damage as "probably total."

Sgt. Quinlan and Patrolman Triam went to the scene of the accident. A ticket charging reckless driving was issued to Barnes.

Ten minutes after the Lincoln avenue accident another smashup was reported at Hardin avenue and Crescent Drive. A 1961 Ford traveling north on Hardin, driven by Robert L. Northrup of Franklin route one, collided with a 1959 Pontiac owned by State Trooper Edmund Hoyer, 841 Morton avenue, which was sitting still, according to police report. Both vehicles were damaged.

Northrup was ticketed on a charge of reckless driving. Patrolman Williams responded to the call.

The intersection of Prairie street and Independence avenue was the scene of a collision at 11:40 a.m. Jan. 2, in which both drivers escaped injury.

Monte T. McDonald of Chapin, driving a 1956 Ford, was traveling south and his car received damage to the left rear side.

William DeSilva, 213 South Fayette, was driving west in 1960 Chevrolet, which police said slid on ice through the stop sign, striking the McDonald car at the left rear door.

Sgt. Ernest Smith and Patrolman Cloyd Wilson investigated the accident.

March Of Dimes Opens '61 Campaign Tuesday

"The most effective ammunition any of us can supply for the fight to prevent crippling diseases is the dollars we give to the 1961 March of Dimes," Mrs. Ray McKinley, Morgan county campaign chairman, announced Tuesday. The campaign began Tuesday and will culminate January 31 with the traditional Mothers' March.

The campaign kick-off began Tuesday morning as members of Odd Fellows and Rebekah organizations circulated throughout the business district with blue crutches for lapels of those who contributed. A parade moved throughout the business district at 10 o'clock, calling attention to the January campaign.

Campaign workers urged residents of Morgan county to please say YES to the 1961 New March of Dimes so the National Foundation can obtain the funds it needs to continue the attack against crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.

The National Foundation relies on our March of Dimes contributions to enlarge its program of research, professional education and patient aid. Cripples are stubborn and dangerous enemies. Here is the United States one out of every 16 babies is born with a significant birth defect. More than 11,000,000 persons are afflicted with crippling arthritis or a similar rheumatic disease.

The National Foundation has developed through development of the Salk Vaccine that the American people could find the means of preventing such a dread cripple as polio. Continued public support will insure similar breakthroughs toward the prevention of birth defects and arthritis.

Control may be possible of biological problems that until recently were believed impossible to solve. Thanks to startling progress in the last few years resulting from fundamental research work in nuclear acid which the National Foundation has been supporting for some time.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin has developed his live-virus polio vaccine under National Foundation grants. The National Foundation for many years has supported through the March of Dimes the largest virus research program of its kind in the world.

City Election—

City Clerk's Office Beehive Of Activity

Jacksonville's city election scene has caused the city clerk's office to become a beehive of activity during the past few days according to John R. Phillips, who will retire after 28 years of service in that office in April.

"We give out a lot of information but nobody tells us who they represent," he commented.

Jacksonville voters will select a mayor, city clerk, treasurer, police magistrate, and seven aldermen. First day for filing of petitions will be Wednesday, January 4, and last day will be 12 o'clock noon Saturday, January 14.

Most political experts view the present uncertain conditions on who will and who will not run for the various offices as the "calm before the storm." Spirited campaigning is being forecasted for several of the top offices and in many of the wards for aldermen.

"Not Ready Yet" In an interview Tuesday morning, Mayor Robert A. DuBois stated he "was not yet ready to announce his decision to seek or not to seek a second term."

Glancing over campaign literature used four years ago, Mayor DuBois commented that he was proud of his record of accomplishment. "I feel the voters of the city should have a choice, and I am sure they will. The only program in my original campaign that has not been carried out is the Elm tree difficulties and that was because of lack of favorable votes in the city council."

Two Republicans

Two Republicans have announced their intentions of running for the office of Mayor of Jacksonville. Crit Haneline, local businessman and former member of the city council, has petitions in circulation throughout the city.

James E. Cruise, local businessman and law school graduate, announced his intentions of running for the office of mayor Tuesday morning.

The race isn't over yet, however, and there is no indication just how many more persons will file their petitions for the various offices in the next ten days. Each candidate must file his petitions with the city clerk on or before January 14 in order to have his name listed on the primary ballot.

Workers on both sides of the political fence will be active during the next ten days to secure candidates for each of the offices to be filled.
